About Us

After founding, funding and building my last two companies – Voice Powered Technology and AeroGrow International – and then taking them public on NASDAQ, it was time for a well-deserved break. But, like many entrepreneurs, I was pulled back into the game.

Based on my reputation and past results – and word on the street that I might be available – I was approached by a number of companies with extraordinary potential that needed capital, mentoring and, in some cases, marketing to go to the next level.

So I stepped in (see Client Funding Results). I discovered that I truly enjoyed working with fellow entrepreneurs who have exciting products or business models with high potential for accelerated growth...companies that, with capital, marketing and mentoring, can grow revenues dramatically.

Oh yes, not only do I love what I do, but over the last 30 years I've become damn good at it.

So I founded the Bissonnette Funding Group and surrounded myself with world-class talent to support our core strengths and services.

Our funding team includes a securities attorney who has taken more than sixty companies public using Direct Public Offerings (probably more than any other attorney in the country) and a PCOAB-approved accounting firm with deep expertise in taking smaller private companies public. The entire funding team has extensive contacts in the investor world.

If you are looking to take your company to the next level, and funding will help get you there. Give us a call at 303-579-6955. Let's see if there is a fit.
